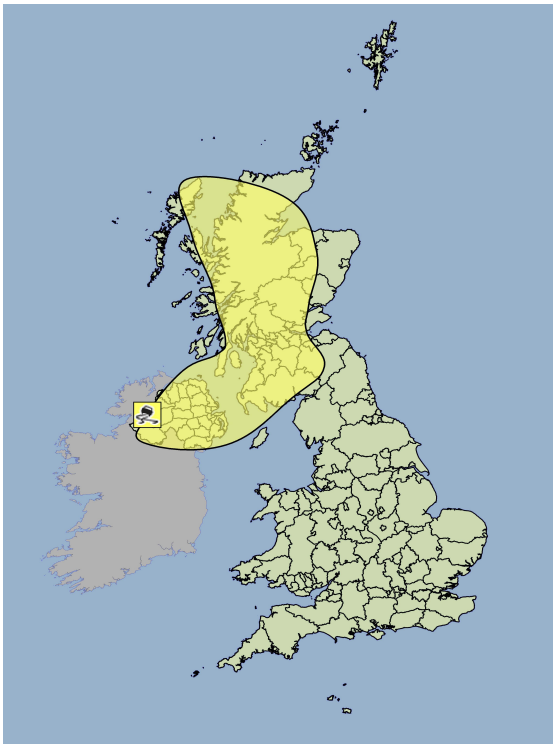
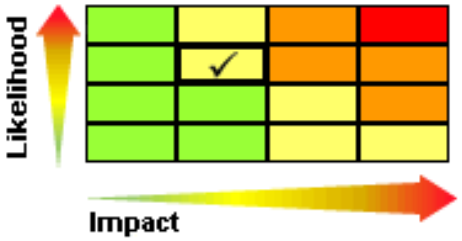
National Severe Weather Warning Service





Chief Forecasters Assessment
A weak ridge of high pressure crossing northern areas on Monday evening will allow skies to clear and temperatures to fall sharply. This will bring a risk of icy stretches, particularly where showers have occurred.

The Met Office have issued a Yellow Warning of Ice

Valid from 19:00 on Mon, 10th Feb 2014 until 23:50 on Mon, 10th Feb 2014

Clearing skies following showers, some wintry, will allow road temperatures to fall below freezing on Monday evening. The public should be aware that this may lead to icy stretches on untreated roads, especially where showers last into the evening. Drivers are advised to take extra care.
